Music to our ears

Faith Hill loves one-word album titles, and why not? Breathe sold more than 15 million copies, and her newest, Cry, with a somber title track that showcases her incredible vocal range, will probably do just as well. No new ground, but plenty of good songs.... Marriage and father-hood were the inspiration for Phil Collins's latest, Testify. Best track: the lullaby-like "Come With Me."... Christina Aguilera duets with rapper Redman on the sinuous "Dirty," from her fourth CD.... As usual, Tori Amos offers her fans intense narratives and lots of raw emotion in her latest, Scarlet's Walk, about traveling cross-country. Standout track: "A Sorta Fairytale."... Let It Rain, by Tracy Chapman, the singer's first CD in two years, is a polished but soulful mix. Likely hit: "You're the One." —L.A.

Season of Faith: The country super-star appears in an NBC special on November 28th. Husband Tim McGraw's program airs the night before.
